Federated IT Ranks in the Top Quarter of the Nation's "Best and Brightest" Prestigious business publication recognizes Federated's 201% growth

Washington, DC -- In recognition of Federated IT's rapid growth, UBM Channel ranked Federated #24 of the top 100 Fast Growth companies in the US. Fast Growth 100 companies are considered some of the best and brightest of the country— companies that have managed to fight strong economic headwinds to achieve impressive revenue growth over the past two years. The annual list features the fastest-growing solution providers in the technology industry based on two years' growth of net sales from calendar year 2009 to calendar year 2011 and Federated IT reported a 201.36% growth spurt during that period.

"This economy presents challenges but it also presents great opportunities," said Matthew Bucholz, president of Federated IT. "At Federated IT we identify opportunities and focus on bringing the best value to the customer. That makes for a winning combination."

"Posting revenue growth of any sort is something to be proud of in the shadows of a recession," said Kelley Damore, VP, Editorial Director for UBM Channel. "But the companies on CRN's Fast Growth 100 list have experienced phenomenal increases in revenue over the past two years. Getting there is a combination of hard work and an ability to truly understand customers' needs. These companies represent the strength of the channel today and hope for a stronger tomorrow. We congratulate Federated IT for continuing to grow and succeed in spite of recent global economic turmoil."
