Inc. Magazine Introduces Hire Power Awards Honoring America's 100 Top Job Creators Federated IT Ranks 4th in the top 10 job creators of Washington DC

New York, NY (December 6th, 2012) - Washington, DC based Federated IT featured in the inaugural ranking of Inc.'s Hire Power Awards, recognizing the private businesses that have generated the most jobs in the past three years.

Federated IT generated 61 jobs from 2008 to 2011, placing it among the top 10 private business job creators in the District of Columbia.

"Federated IT is dedicated providing the highest quality of service to our customers. For that reason, Federated has seen consistent and steady growth since its founding." Commented President Matthew Bucholz. "We are eager to contribute to our nation's economic growth by creating more jobs."

Inc. is the only major business media brand aimed solely at CEOs of fast-growing private companies. The Hire Power Awards will appear in Inc.'s December/January issue, as well as the brand's web site, www.inc.com.

"The top 100 companies on the list have created 73,032 American jobs in the three-year period from 2008 to 2011 - an amazing feat, given that much of that job growth came during the heart of the recession," explains Inc. editor-in-chief Eric Schurenberg. "And it isn't just the big guys that are adding jobs. Companies with less than $50 million in annual revenue make up nearly one-third of the Hire Power list."

The inaugural Inc. Hire Power Awards are sponsored by Bank of America Merrill Lynch, which is proud to recognize American companies that have greatly increased their workforces. Inc.'s Hire Power Awards celebrates private companies on the forefront of American job creation, giving these businesses the recognition they deserve.
